

About ETHOS 6.0

It is an UNESCO's Chair in Bioethics annual Conference with the goal of bringing International and National experts in the field of bioethics and students studying health sciences together at the ACS MEDICAL COLLEGE AND HOSPITAL, CHENNAI, TAMIL NADU.

Explore the ethical implications of artificial intelligence in healthcare, focusing on patient privacy and autonomy.

Assess the responsibility of healthcare professionals in the ethical deployment of AI and fostering collaborations between Ethicists ,technologists and healthcare providers

Develop a dynamic academic program addressing current issues in bioethics, public ethics, and law. This program will provide a platform to discuss the moral and societal considerations of AI in healthcare and research, ensuring that AI technologies are developed and used in ways that prioritize patient well-being and uphold ethical standards.
